GOVERNMENT TO BEGIN WORK ON FOUNTAINDALE RIDGE MONDAY

Plans of the government to begin work Monday at the "Beard Lot" in Liberty township were revealed today by Attorney Charles W. Kalp, assistant U.S. attorney at Lewisburg.

The "Beard Lot," a 1,500-foot-high, mile-long hill located at Fountaindale and extending east and south along the Waynesboro-Emmitsburg road, will be used, it is believed, as part of an underground world-wide communications center to be set up by the army at Camp Ritchie.

Kalp said the government had been granted "immediate possession" orders on four of 26 properties previously listed for condemnation in a petition to the U.S. District court at Lewisburg. Whether the remaining 22 properties will be condemned was not immediately known. A petition for condemnation was originally filed for the entire 1,100-acre area surrounding and including the "Beard Lot."

Thursday the government asked that four properties be condemned and turned over to the government for its use immediately. U.S. District Judge Frederick V. Follmer, at Lewisburg, then handed down the orders condemning the property.

No Immediate Evictions

March 26 was set as return date for hearing applications for the naming of viewers, Kalp said. Such action will be taken however only if the offer to be made by the government to the people for their property is such that they would reject the bid and seek viewers to appraise the property.

The government's taking over the land on Monday will not mean the immediate eviction of the property owners, Kalp said. The properties condemned were those of the heirs of Samuele Warren containing 47½ acres, the Hoy Martin property of 103 acres, the three-acre property of Harold M. and Sylvia Carson and the 87½-acre property of Robert and Viola Kipe. The petition in the Hoy Martin case said that the government planned to take only that portion of the land lying to the east of the Fountaindale-Sabillasville road.

Communications Center

Kalp said the government officials told him that "some or all of the owners" may be permitted to continue in their homes. He said they added that continuation of the present property holders in their homes will depend on arrangements with the army.

The Lewisburg attorney said he did not know what type of work the government planned to begin on the property Monday.

However the armed forces had previously announced plans to establish a super underground communications center.

MRS. BUEHLER RE-ELECTED BY CIVIL COUNCIL

Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler was re-elected president of the Women's Civic Council at the January meeting held Friday night at the YWCA. Mrs. Harvey Dickert was elected secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Edith Bushman was elected to the executive board for a term of three years.

Mrs. Lester O. Johnson is the retiring board member and Mrs. W. A. Corbett the retiring secretary-treasurer. They were given votes of thanks for their services. Mrs. W. A. Hennig was chairman of the nominating committee. The election was conducted by Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh.

Twenty-three members were present. Mrs. Robert Codori attended as newly-appointed representative of the St. Francis Xavier Mother's club. Mrs. Charles Jacobs, alternate representative of the same organization, also was present.

More Member Groups

In reviewing the work of the past year, Mrs. Buehler announced that the group has grown from 21 to 28 women's organizations. The membership includes four members at large.

Reports were received from the treasurer and the president, and Mrs. Forrest Craver reported for the P.T.A. committee. A check of the representatives indicated that nine clubs had donated to the Christmas light fund of the Exchange club. Other donations to this project are pending.

Mrs. Fortenbaugh read a letter from the chairman of the planning committee for first aid in civilian defense, stressing the importance of this work. Mrs. John Rice and Mrs. Grover Ridler spoke further on this. Mrs. Rice urging attendance at the two classes to be held Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. and Thursdays at 1:30 p.m., at the YWCA building. Mrs. Ridler stated that home nursing courses are being given in high schools throughout the county, in general home nursing and mother and baby care.

Members were asked to contact their respective clubs and ask for consideration of the projects in which they are most interested. These findings are to be brought before the civic council at the next meeting. It was voted to hold the February meeting in the historical society rooms at the court house. Mrs. Fortenbaugh is in charge of arrangements for this meeting.

Pensinger Seascope Wins First Place

A seascope made by Paul Pensinger was awarded first place in a contest held by the Gettysburg Photographic society for its members at a meeting held at the home of David Garfinkle, Jr.

The prints entered in the contest were made by the paper negative process. Second award went to a picture entitled "School Days," made by Dr. C. A. Sloat. Variations of the paper negative process were discussed.

The next meeting of the society will be held at the home of Frank Hewetson n Biglerville.

Average Relief Grant To 1,100 Countians Not Enough To Meet Living Costs, Report Shows

Adams county's 1,100 public assistance recipients occupied quarters which cost less than the state average but have to pay more than the average in the state for fuel and light, according to the annual report of the Department of Public Assistance to the governor of Pennsylvania.

The total monthly relief bill in Adams county has been averaging close to $30,000.

The report also shows that the average amount given to the relief recipients in this county is less than the actual cost of food, clothing and shelter needed for "maximum" living standards.

Average monthly rentals paid by Adams county assistance recipients vary from $11.20 for single persons to $21.60 for families with eight or more persons, the report shows. The state average varies from $13.50 for single persons to $26.10 for families of eight or more.

Some Face Monthly Shortage

Monthly costs of fuel and light paid by the average recipient in Adams county vary from $7.30 for a single person to $18.20 for a family of nine. The averages are $6.80 for an individual person to $16.60 for families of nine.

The report indicates that persons with maximum rents find tough going on assistance grants. One countyman may receive a maximum of $27 allowance for rent and heat and light, which leaves the recipient with the approximate maximum rent of $30 three dollars per month in the hole. A family of four which can receive an allowance of $38 but which must pay $45.10 in Adams county for rent, fuel and light goes even deeper into the deficit column.

The report shows that approximately $4 to $7 per month is included in the grants given assistance recipients for clothing purchase and upkeep. An adult man is given approximately $4 a month for clothing and its upkeep, while a boy between the ages of 12 to 18 is granted $6.75 a month for clothing. An adult woman is granted $3.50 per month and a girl between the ages

Fairfield Comedy Is Well Received

The community hall at Fairfield was filled to capacity Friday night for the opening performance of "Crazy Daze," the comedy presented by the Fairfield Lions club to raise money for its sight conservation work. The show will be repeated tonight at 8 o'clock at the hall.

The audience of more than 300 was an appreciative one, and all of the members of the cast in the various scenes, wedding and dance numbers, took their parts well. All of the cast were local people. Mrs. Wesley Schaible was pianist.

DEATHS

Randy R. Taylor

Randy Robert Taylor, one-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Taylor, Aspers R. 1, died at his home this morning at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Taylor is the former Miss Sarah Black, of Aspers R. 1.

In addition to the parents the following brothers and sisters survive: Marvell, Eugene, Freddie, Mary Lou, Ruthie, Jesse, Linda, Roger, Clyde, David, Guy and Earl, all at home; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Annie Taylor, Aspers R. 1; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Waybright Black, Aspers R. 1, and great grandfather, Frederick Showers, Aspers R. 1.

Graveside services will be held today at 3 p.m. at the Wenkiville cemetery conducted by the Rev. Richard H. L. Vanaman.

Mrs. Lewis S. Boyd

Mrs. Virgie May Boyd, 71, wife of Lewis S. Boyd, died Friday morning at 7:45 o'clock at her home in Taneytown after being in ill health for five years.

She was a daughter of the late Albert and Julia Long Biddinger, of Frederick county. Survivors include her husband, one son, Mr. Sgt. James A. Boyd, of Washington, two brothers, Claude Biddinger, of Littlestown, and Reno Biddinger, of Hagerstown, and one sister, Mrs. George Humbert, also of Littlestown. Five grandchildren also survive.

Private funeral services Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the late residence, conducted by Rev. Morgan R. Andreas, pastor of the Taneytown Grace Reformed church. Interment in the church cemetery.

Big Problem Left Unsolved

By careful purchasing, the average cost of food for an adult living alone per month should be $27, the department figures, in families of up to five adults the price should be $16.20 per month per adult. A youngster between the age of 12 to 18 needs $23 worth of food per month and a child from 5 to 11 needs $19 worth of food each month. Grants

"No One Going To Drive Us Into Sea," Says MacArthur

U. E. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Jan. 20 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur flew to the Allied Korean war headquarters today and pledged "no one is going to drive us into the sea."

The supreme commander said the Allied army will fight in Korea as long as the United Nations orders it to.

Wearing his gold leafed cap and a tightly buttoned trench coat, MacArthur rode into Eighth army headquarters with his top field commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. Ridgway was dressed in paratrooper clothing festooned with hand grenades.

"This command intends to maintain a military position in Korea just as long as the statesmen of the United Nations decide we should do so," MacArthur said.

MacArthur read his own statement at dictation speed to headquarters correspondents, pausing occasionally when asked to repeat a phrase. He had written the statement on his plane flight from Tokyo and asked that it be taken word for word—"so there will be no mistake."

This was MacArthur's eighth visit to Korea since the start of the war last June and his first formal news conference in Korea.

Once again he reviewed the Chinese Communist attack on U.N. forces. "The Army," he said, "was saved from severe loss or possible destruction and stands resolute and undefeated, awaiting that further political decision which can only come from the chancelleries of the world now faced with this new and entirely unanticipated drama."

"Considering that the entire military might of Communist China is available against this relatively small command, only by maneuver may it avoid hazards inherent to the great odds it now faces. In this it is performing in a highly satisfactory manner."

MacArthur conferred with Ridgway for 90 minutes before meeting the correspondents. He was whisked back to the airport immediately after the conference to return to Tokyo.

Dr. Johnson Will Take Week's Course

Dr. C. H. Johnson, 52 East Broadway, will leave Sunday for Philadelphia, where he will take a post graduate course on present trends in the diagnosis and treatment of heart disease. The course is sponsored by the American College of Physicians, and will be held at the college's headquarters and the Philadelphia General hospital. He will be gone the entire week.

EGG PRICES CUT IN HALF IN SIX WEEKS ON MART

A downward trend in the price of eggs which started shortly before the first of the year, brought the price of large whites and browns to 45 cents a dozen on the Farmers market this morning. Some sold for 50 cents, while mediums, both whites and browns, were as low as 40 cents a dozen. Large whites and browns were selling for 80 cents a dozen about the middle of December.

Other prices remained unchanged. Pork loins were $1 a pound; back-bone, 50 cents a pound; ribs, 50 cents a pound; neck roast, 55 cents a pound; shoulder roast, 65 cents a pound; ham roast, 75 cents a pound; sausage, 60 cents a pound; scrapple, 25 cents a pound; pudding, 50 cents a pound; fresh side meat, 55 cents a pound; liver, 50 cents a pound, and lard, 22 cents a pound.

Apples brought 25 cents a quarter peck, 45 cents a half peck and from $2.50 to $3 a bushel. Potatoes were 20 cents a quarter peck and $2 a bushel. Turnips sold for ten and 15 cents a quart box, and cabbage, five cents a pound.

Other quotations were: mince-meat, 50 cents a quart; apple butter, 50 cents a jar; whipping cream, 35 cents a pint; chickens, fryers, 60 cents, roasters, 55 cents a pound; potato salad, 20 cents a pint; bread 20 cents a loaf; rolls, 20 cents a dozen; cakes, $1 and $1.20; cookies, 25 cents a dozen and pies, 40 and 50 cents each.

WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Mrs. Nancy L. Edwards, 21, of New Oxford R. 2, suffered concussion, lacerated fingers and a bruised left hip at 5:15 o'clock Friday afternoon when an automobile she was driving was struck in Table Rock. She was taken to the Warner hospital in the car of Paul Miller, Biglerville R. 1.

Charles M. Smith, 20, of Gettysburg R. 4, whose automobile ran into the Edwards car, was arrested by state police of the Gettysburg substation and take before Justice of the Peace Robert F. Bell, where he paid a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of driving without an operator's license.

State police said Smith had stopped for gasoline at Plank's mill, Table Rock, and was pulling away from the mill in the path of the Edwards car. Mrs. Edwards struck the right front fender of the Smith automobile and overturned on the highway.

Damage to Mrs. Edwards' car was estimated at $700, and to Smith's car at $25.

Miss Elsie Black, Town Native, Dies

Miss Elsie A. Black, 222 Forester street, Harrisburg, a native of Gettysburg, died Friday evening in the Harrisburg hospital.

She was a daughter of the late Charles W. and Sarah A. Black. Miss Black was secretary at the Central YMCA in Harrisburg. She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, New Oxford. Miss Black attended Gettysburg high school, Shippensburg State Normal school and Beckley Business college, Harrisburg.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Joseph H. Kepner, Marietta; Mrs. J. P. Bannmiller, Harrisburg, and Miss Mattie B. Black, Harrisburg. Funeral services Tuesday at 10 a.m. from the Charles C. Baker funeral home, Third and Maclay streets, Harrisburg, conducted by the Rev. Samuel Clarke. Interment in Evergreen cemetery here. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday evening after 7 o'clock.

ENGINEERS TO MEET

The Lincoln chapter of the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers will hold a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. on Monday at Dissinger's old mill hotel on the Lincoln highway, just west of Lancaster. The program chairman has announced that a representative of the Philadelphia office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will address the group. Registered professional engineers from Adams, Franklin, Lancaster and York counties are invited to attend the lecture which will start about 7:45 p.m.

WILL REOPEN OFFICE

Dr. C. H. Heldt will reopen his office on Carlisle street Tuesday. He will arrive Monday from Oakland City, Ind., where he was called by the death of his mother, Mrs. H. C. Heldt.

CHANGE RESIDENCES

Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Bender have moved from Carlisle street to their new home on Keckler's hill, Biglerville road. Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bender and family have moved from Hillcrest Place to the property vacated by the Benders.

Communists Hit Wonju On Three Sides As UN Moves Out

On the Central Front, Korea, Jan. 20 (AP)—Allied troops withdrew tonight from Wonju after an intense battle with overwhelming Red forces.

The Reds had swarmed into the key central Korean road-rail hub from three sides and had threatened to trap the Allied garrison force that entered the city Friday.

Tokyo, Jan. 20 (AP)—Communist forces hit Allied troops in recaptured Wonju on three sides today. Fighting raged inside the key road-rail hub on the Central Korean front.

The Red attack—perhaps the start of the expected Communist offensive—flared as General MacArthur arrived in Korea and said: "No one is going to drive us into the sea."

Associated Press Correspondent William C. Barnard reported a fierce fight had developed at Wonju in the frigid mountains.

Not Yet Major Battle

It was not a major battle yet. But the Wonju attack had the stamp of Communist Chinese and Korean strategy; try to drive on Taegu, keystone of the old Pusan perimeter, turn the flanks and roll Allied forces back against the east and west coasts.

Barnard said Communist troops in unknown numbers were on the east and west edges of the rubble town and strung along the twisted, bombed rail line to the northwest.

"On the southeast side of Wonju, Communist troops are moving boldly in the hills," he said. Barnard re-entered the town with a tank-led patrol Friday.

3 Red Armies Nearby

In Wonju the Allied troops denied the Reds use of three main roads radiating southwest, south and southeast. Wonju is in the middle of the two Communist buildup sectors.

West of the road hub were three Chinese Red armies totalling 90,000 men. Stretched across the mountains to the east were at least six North Korean divisions.

As MacArthur dictated his statement of confidence from notes written on the plane trip from Tokyo, Allied patrols continued their hard-hitting harassment of massing Reds along the front.

Rash of Skirmishes

A rash of patrol skirmishes broke out in the Yongwol-Tanyang area southeast of Wonju where 10,000 U.N. troops were pressing about 30,000 Korean Reds.

A dispatch from AP Correspondent Don Huth at Eighth Army headquarters spoke of elements of an Allied division and two regiments in this mountainous sector. Yongwol is 30 miles southeast of Wonju, Tanyang 35.

In western Korea, an Allied armored patrol continued thrusting northward in the area around Osan, 28 miles southeast of Seoul.

Air Power Takes Toll

An Eighth Army communique said the patrol went into Poyongchon, two miles northeast of Osan, Friday without encountering any Reds. The patrol probed farther northward but withdrew after drawing small arms and automatic weapons fire. Red troops were reported concentrating in battalion and company strength west of Ichon, 31 miles southeast of Seoul.

Allied airpower took a heavy toll as the Reds increased their movements along the western and central fronts. Air force pilots claimed almost 800 Friday, boosting Far East Air Forces' total since Sunday to 3,650 killed.

The Navy announced planes from Carrier Task Force 77 killed 2,200 of 3,000 Reds sighted Wednesday in a valley near Tanyang. Ground troops confirmed the figure, the Navy said.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARIES

Mr. and Mrs. John Goodermuth, 238 East Middle street, entertained at dinner today in observance of their 39th wedding anniversary as well as the 39th anniversary of Mrs. Goodermuth's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, Gettysburg R. 1, which occurred January 1. Other guests were George Heagerty, Mrs. Edna Mundorff and Laura Swepe.

WILL REOPEN OFFICE

Dr. C. H. Heldt will reopen his office on Carlisle street Tuesday. He will arrive Monday from Oakland City, Ind., where he was called by the death of his mother, Mrs. H. C. Heldt.

CHANGE RESIDENCES

Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Bender have moved from Carlisle street to their new home on Keckler's hill, Biglerville road. Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Bender and family have moved from Hillcrest Place to the property vacated by the Benders.

TRUMAN PUTS DESPOT LABEL ON JOE STALIN

By FRANK O'BRIEN
Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—President Truman last night declared here isn't any difference between Premier Joseph Stalin and Hitler, Mussolini, and other notorious despots of history.

"They are all just alike. . . They lived in the enslavement of the common people," Mr. Truman told a business mobilization dinner "of the city of Business Magazine editors. But, he added, "We are going to win."

In a conciliatory mood toward critics of his right to send troops to Europe, Mr. Truman insisted he thinks the Senators' moves are the best.

Rare Attack On Stalin
"There is not a senator," he said, he is not just as anxious to see the S. government continue as a free movement in the world as I am. I actually, no matter what they say for publication, when the time comes for action they will be right there—I am just as sure of that as I stand here."

He declared that "we are faced by aggression, and we are faced by inflation" but freedom "is going to prevail in the world."

The president has often scored Soviet Russia as the fountain of communist imperialism, but his pre-recorded comment last night was one of rare occasions when he has criticized Premier Stalin by name.

Turns To History
His denunciation of Stalin as a totalitarian recalled that in 1948 Mr. Truman referred to the Soviet leader "Old Joe" and called him a prisoner of the politburo, Russia's top political council.

Mr. Truman makes a hobby of reading history, and he reached back to the legendary days of ancient Rome for historical tyrants to keep alive.

"There isn't any difference," he said from a prepared text, "between Hitler and Mussolini, Tarquin in ancient Rome, the tyrants in Sparta, Charles the First of England, Louis XIV and Stalin. They are all just alike. Alexander the First of Russia was just as much a dictator as any other that ever existed. I believe in the enslavement of a common people."

All Were Failures
It was perhaps significant that the historical companions Mr. Truman had for Stalin all died violently or in failure after aggressive careers. Tarquin—presumably Lucius Tarquinius Superbus, 534-510 B. C., last legendary king of Rome—died in exile according to the traditional accounts of his reign, after converting constitutional monarchy to a dictatorship. Charles the First of England was beheaded in 1649 because he had dissolved parliament and for 11 years ruled with absolute power. Alexander the First of Russia died in 1825 "ush," in his own words, "with the terrible burden of a crown." He began his reign as a cruel ruler but ended it a despot whose entanglement in numerous wars, both Hitler and Mussolini died peacefully after failing in dreams of world conquest.

Rutgers President Decides To Retire

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 20 (AP)—Dr. Robert C. Clotier has announced his retirement as president of Rutgers university, a post he has held 18 years. He told the mid-winter meeting of the university board of trustees yesterday "I have reached what is regarded as a good age to retire. It is time for a younger man to take over." Dr. Clotier was 66 years old on January 8.

He is credited with building Rutgers from a small institution to a state university of national prominence.

Nearly 90 per cent of all farm products now go to initial markets in motor vehicles.

HOLDUP FOILED, PAIR CAPTURED

Whitesville, W. Va., Jan. 20 (AP)—Two would-be bank robbers thwarted by a fearless guard were held in jail here without bond today.

State Police Capt. C. L. Walker identified the pair as Nolewine and Louis Dare Anderson, both 23 and both of Mount Morris, Pa.

The two, charged with attempted bank robbery, were arrested at a state police road block at Glen Daniel, Raleigh county, yesterday a short time after they fled empty-handed from the Whitesville State bank.

Henry Snodgrass, 39-year-old, 225-pound guard who jumped one gunman attempting to enter an office occupied by Assistant Cashier Ted Mullins, was credited with foiling the robbery attempt.

Snodgrass grabbed at the man's gun, which went off without hitting either of the two. The other bandit then fired at Snodgrass, but missed. The man held by Snodgrass broke loose and the pair fled, with the guard firing several shots at their automobile as they drove away.

The gunmen were pursued along state Route 3 by state police. Their car hit a parked auto as it approached a road block. Officers said the opened fire and that the pair dropped their weapons and surrendered.

WOULD NULLIFY COAL WAGE RISE

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Senator Ellender (D-La.) demanded today that the government nullify the new wage boost agreement in the soft coal industry and block the expected coal price increase.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) declared, however, there would be no justification for such action. He said federal stabilization officials forfeited any right to intervene "by dilly-dallying and failing to impose general wage-price controls long ago."

John L. Lewis and representatives of practically the entire soft coal industry signed a contract Thursday providing a pay hike of $1.60 a day for 400,000 miners, effective February 1.

The mine operators said then the wage boost would have to be accompanied by a five or six per cent increase in the price of coal.

Ellender called it "unconscionable and a terrible thing" for the government to permit "wage and price increases of that kind when there is supposed to be an anti-inflation program."

The Louisiana lawmaker called for an immediate freeze of all wages and prices with a rollback provision which would have the effect of cancelling the miners' wage increase and preventing any coal price advance.

Gen. Eisenhower Visits Frankfurt

Frankfurt, Germany, Jan. 20 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who once entered Germany as a conqueror, declared today "I would like to see the German people lined up with others in defense of the Western type of civilization."

Eisenhower who flew in from Luxembourg on the wind-up of his tour of Atlantic Pact nations to lay the groundwork for a united defense against Communist aggression, told reporters: "I hope that some day the great German people will be lined up with the West. I believe in the freedom-loving quality of the German people."

The commander was met at the big Rhein Main airport outside Frankfurt by generals of the Big Three Western occupation armies.

Asked whether he believed the Germans should be mobilized to assist in the Western defense plan, he declared there is "no place for actual neutrality" when civilizations are in conflict. Eisenhower emphasized, however, that the Germans should be allowed to come into the defense alliance of their own free will.

Ex-Employee Suicides After Shootings

Binghamton, N. Y., Jan. 20 (AP)—A discharged hospital employee lay dead today by his own hand, while doctors tended serious gunshot wounds the deranged man inflicted on his former boss and another man.

Albert T. Davidson, 51, was found asphyxiated last night, six hours after he had crashed a staff meeting at the state mental hospital and announced "here it is!"

He fired twice from a blanket-wrapped gun and wounded Dr. Hugh Gregory, 61, the hospital superintendent, and Chief Mechanic Lewis Gale, 54. After emergency operations, Dr. Gregory's condition was reported good, but Gale's remained serious.

Davidson's body was found in his parked automobile a mile from the hospital. He had shot and killed his mongrel dog after chaining the animal to the rear bumper. Then he had strung a garden hose from the exhaust to kill himself. His loaded 12-gauge shotgun was on the front seat.

RUSH FREEZE ON WAGES, PRICES

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Under the new leadership of Eric Johnston, the so-called "czar" of the Hollywood movies, the Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA) pushed today for a quick freeze on wages and prices.

Johnston, four times president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, took a leave of absence as head of the Motion Picture Association of America, to succeed Alan Valentine as ESA administrator. Valentine resigned yesterday. He had felt immediate controls were "premature."

Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson, who had forced Valentine's hand, immediately began drafting an executive order for President Truman's signature giving Johnston broader powers.

The order, due shortly, reportedly will make Johnston supervisor over the entire economic phase of mobilization. Besides wages and prices, his sphere will include credit control, rent control and home financing—authority which Valentine did not possess.

Speed was the by-word. Wilson's Office of Defense Mobilization wanted a freeze on wages and prices by next week, but Price Stabilization Director Michael V. D'Salle told a reporter that "purely mechanical problems" might delay action somewhat.

The Ruffes had an old-time butchering party with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kemp, Mark Stouter, Joseph Eyer, Reynold Eyer, Peter Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Maser, Mrs. Herbert Koontz, Mrs. Edna Tressler, Mrs. Cordia Clegg, Everett and Barbara Hess and Linda and Buddy Maser, present.

B. D. Martin was appointed by the Presbyterian church to serve on the Community Fund committee for the new year.

FOR ROTARY ONLY

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—A news service for Catholic church publications quoted its Rome correspondent yesterday as saying the recent Vatican ban on priests' membership in Rotary clubs applies only to Rotary and "not similar organizations."

The National Catholic Welfare conference (NCWC) dispatch said "competent authorities" in Rome hold that the ban is not a new action, is of universal application and is concerned with only Rotary clubs.

York County Man Killed In Crash

Calvin Deardorff, 18, of East Berlin R. 1, Washington township, York county, was killed instantly when the car in which he was riding crashed into a concrete bridge at Big Dam store, on the Franklin-town-East Berlin road, Friday night at 11:30 o'clock.

Walter Rentzel, 19, of Dover R. 1, is believed by state police to have been the driver of the auto. Seriously injured, he was pulled from the car as it burst into flames. He was admitted to Carlisle hospital, with lacerations of the face, chin and both knees. His condition early this morning was listed as fair by hospital authorities.

Police said the car caught fire immediately after the crash, and a passing motorist pulled Rentzel free from the wreckage. Deardorff had been thrown clear of the blaze by the impact. York County Coroner Lester J. Sell said his body was crushed. His injuries were too many to determine cause of death, Sell said.

The motor of the 1951 model car was found about 75 feet from the car body, and parts of the vehicle were littered over the road.

Average Relief

for food, however, are not that high for families, with the department figuring that while two or three cannot live together as cheaply as one, they still can reside in the family and eat from the same table at less cost than the same number could eat separately. A lengthy table is listed giving the variations in the maximum allowance for food according to size of family.

The variation between the maximum amount allowed on assistance and the actual cost of minimum living is shown in one table in the report. A family of four can with diligent care pay its rent, light, and heat, make its clothing do and eat enough for proper nutrition at a cost of $131.35 per month, the department determined, following a survey of costs. The maximum amount the department could give to that family of four is $127.50 per month.

Just how the relief recipient is supposed to make ends meet is not indicated.

The same EPA report shows that Pennsylvania grants are below the average for 10 other industrial states in this part of the nation on old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to the blind and general assistance.

GOVERNMENT TO

cations center at Camp Ritchie and the "Beard Lot" is to be annexed, according to the government's original petition in federal court, to Camp Ritchie. Congressman James F. Lind said previously that he was informed the activity in the Liberty-Hamilton township area was in connection with that communications center.

Mrs. Harold Carson said Friday evening that she and her husband had not been notified of the plans by the government to take over the area, but said that in previous visits by government officials, the Carsons had been told that the government wanted their land "for an entrance."

No Orders To Close Road

For that reason it is believed that the Carson property may be one of the two where the government plans to begin work next week.

Reports were still strong in the Liberty township area that the government plans to close off the Sunshine Trail to permit trucks hauling ground from the "Beard Lot" to reach dumping places in nearby ravines to carry out their work without interference from traffic. However, J. William Kendehart, county superintendent of highways, said today that he has received no orders to close the Sunshine Trail. The reports from the Mountaineer area said that the former Route 16, now returned to Hamilton township with the opening of the Sunshine Trail, would be used for regular vehicular traffic while the other highway is closed.

Pfc. Paul Patterson Now At Fort Campbell

Pfc. Paul Patterson, Fairfield R. D., stationed at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, with the combat engineers. He had previously served three years with the army, two and a half of them in Germany with the army of occupation. A recently published story concerning the arrest of Private Patterson on a traffic code violation was incorrect in that the story appeared to state that Private Patterson was arrested and jailed recently on the charge. Actually the charge was laid prior to Private Patterson's entering the army November 29, and was merely being "cleared from the books" of the local state police substation.

Consider Arming Chinese Guerrillas

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Government officials here are understood to have studied the possibility of arming anti-Communist guerrillas on the Chinese mainland to help check the spread of Red power in the far east.

Responsible authorities, however, are close-mouthed about the whole idea. Basic United States policy is opposed to any extreme measures which might set off a world war in China.

American weapons are now moving urgently to the Chinese Nationalist's island of Formosa, under a $50,000,000 program worked out last summer through Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek, head of the Nationalist government, has close contacts with some non-Communist forces in China and it now seems probable that some of the arms assigned to him may find their way into the hands of guerrilla units.

PLEADS GUILTY

Francis E. Fogle, Biglerville R. 1, charged Friday with driving his automobile after his operator's license had been suspended, signed a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Friday night, and was held for sentence court January 27. He furnished $500 bail. The arrest was made by borough police.

Trojans Outclass Warriors or 68-28 Win; Scrubs Bow

A completely outclassed Gettysburg high school basketball team fared a 68-28 lacing at the hands of Chambersburg here Friday evening in a South Penn league contest before the largest crowd of the season, about half of whom were in Chambersburg.

It was all Chambersburg from start to finish, the Trojans never being in danger at any time. Time again the visitors made clean shots or intercepted passes which resulted in easy goals.

The Warriors were without the services of Cecil McCormick, lanky star, who is recuperating from a leg of grip. Jim Skinner suffered a ankle injury midway in the second quarter and was forced out of the remainder of the game while Bill Williams, sub guard, also injured his knee as the first half ended and missed the last half. However, the presence of all of the above mentioned would have made little difference in the final outcome.

Off To Fast Start
Chambersburg rushed off to a 6-0 lead on goals by Waters, Davis and before Dave Swope converted foul for the Warriors after three and one-half minutes. Five more goals poured through before the Warriors added another foul. Just before the period ended Charley Ford scored a long toss for the initial Chambersburg goal.

The defending league champs ran their lead to 28-4 and then Coach Hlichter began to insert his reserves. Coach George Forney also inserted his starters and the Jayvees pushed the half which found Chambersburg in front 36-11.

The last half was but a repetition of the first half. Chambersburg's tight defensive work kept the Warriors shooting from outside most of the time with little success.

Use Whole Squads
Before the game ended each coach used his entire squad. Gerry Steger paced the well-lanced Trojans attack with 18 points while Harriell landed eight points for the Forney-men.

The undefeated Chambersburg reserves won the preliminary game 28-20 but found themselves extended by Ross Sachs' scrappy outfit. The starters had a big height advantage over the Warriors but its most effective weapon was the long goal toss of Corwell and Banks.

Next Tuesday the Warriors meet to appear here in another South Penn game.

Robin Roberts Is Signed By Phillies
Philadelphia, Jan. 20 (AP)—The National league champion Philadelphia Phillies have pitcher Robin Roberts, key moundman last year, under contract for 1951.

The young right hander received substantial pay increase, and it is believed he will draw in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Roberts was the victorious pitcher in the final pennant-winning game against Brooklyn last year. He pitched four in the National league among pitchers who hurled ten complete games. Despite a stomach trouble during most of the season, he led the whiz kids pitching ab in number of innings on the

COLTS VANISH FROM PRO GRID ORGANIZATION

Chicago, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts quit professional football Thursday after a four-year loss of $760,000, thus trimming the National Football league to 12 clubs for the 1951 season.

Owner Abraham Watner, a dignified, quiet spoken Baltimore cemetery-owner, officially threw in the sponge for the Colts after the NFL refused his request for one "veteran" player from each club.

The action came as the league opened its annual four-day meeting.

Watner, who also had a plea for "freezing" the Baltimore franchise for a year turned down, announced the Colts would withdraw because he would be unable to field a representative team.

Hopeless Risk
Later, Watner told reporters that the Colts—who won only one of 11 league games in their National loop debut last season—were hopeless financial risks.

Watner said he would have made an effort to run the club next year if he could have sold 15,000 season tickets in an advance sale. A public canvass of Baltimore fans brought a return of only 2,455 persons interested in the plan, he said.

The Colts, along with the Cleveland Browns and San Francisco 49ers, were salvaged from the All-America conference by the National league a year ago. In their three seasons of All-America play, the Colts fashioned a 10-30-1 record.

Refuse Player Aid
The National loop club owners while extending themselves to let Watner off the financial hook, were adamant in refusing veteran player help.

Commissioner Bert Bell said if Watner thought at any time he could make a financial go of an entry in Baltimore within the next three years, Watner would be given preference in the awarding of a franchise.

Watner estimated that besides his last season $106,000 deficit, the Colts previously had lost some $554,000, trying to wallow along in pro football with a losing team.

L-TOWN JR. HI DRIBBLERS WIN

Littletown junior high downed the York Springs junior high dribblers 46-20 in a game played Friday on the Littletown floor.

The victors led the entire way and poured 32 points through the hoop in the final half to win with ease. P. Warner and D. Selby set the pace with 16 and 15 points, respectively. Fair tabbed eight points for York Springs.

The York Springs girls won the opening game 37-8.

Don Gehrmann Is Winner Over Wilt
Philadelphia, Jan. 20 (AP)—If Don Gehrmann, the 120-pound University of Wisconsin graduate, can stay within five yards of Fred Wilt in their future mile duels, the FBI agent will have to change his strategy.

The pair go it again tonight in Boston, and Gehrmann will be favored to take his 35th straight on his performance in the Philadelphia Inquirer races last night. He won the eight furlong affair in 4:12.4 on the slow, 12-lap Convention Hall boards.

Furthermore, he beat Wilt decisively. Fred actually looked as though he was walking, so speedy was Gehrmann at the end. Wilt, of course, had full intentions of getting a lead that Don could not overcome. But he couldn't shake his rival. If he can't do any better tonight or in the future, he's not going to win many races.

Leonard Truex of Ohio State was third and Ingvar Bengtsson of Sweden was fourth. Bengtsson did well until the end, but he didn't have it.

Ancient Rome had standard signs for many of its shops such as a goat for a dairy, a mule driving a mill for a bakery and a bunch of grapes for a wine shop.

Frosh Meet York Team Here Tonight

The lone basketball attraction on the Gettysburg college floor this week will be staged this evening at 8 o'clock when the undefeated Bullet freshmen meet York Junior college.

Johnny Yovicsin's unbeaten yearlings have defeated Mercersburg academy, F. and M. frosh and Stevens Trade. Kenny Dearthoff, former Gettysburg high cager, is a member of the York team.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—Couple of kind words for television, which has been taking the raps lately: . . .

Carl V. Riley of Dubuque, Ia., wonders if the folks who'd like to reduce or cut out sports telecasts because they hurt attendance have thought of the effect on hospitalized war veterans and others in similar situations. . . . The answer is yes—at least to some extent. . . . We heard some of the Pacific coast folks at last week's college meetings say it would be impossible to stop TV entirely because that would deprive viewers of the chance to see their games. . . . And Roy Simmons had a workout scheduled for his Syracuse boxing team last Saturday until he noted that Army vs. Western Maryland (both future opponents) was on television. . . . The practice was held in Simmie's living room in front of the set given him for his 25th anniversary at Syracuse.

OIL, YEAH!
Sammy Esposito, versatile Indiana U. freshman athlete, stars in basketball, baseball and football. . . . But we're not surprised that this yarn is attributed to an unidentified high school coach. . . . when his golf team was short a man, the coach persuaded Sammy to give it a try, although he'd never played the game. . . . Esposito swung a few times, started out and belted five drives that carried over 250 yards. . . . After finishing with a respectable score, Sammy turned in his clubs, saying: "I don't think I can do you much good at this, coach."

AMERICAN TOPS MOUNTS 64-61
American university's strong basketball team topped Mt. St. Mary's in a hard fought Mason-Dixon conference game 64-61 in a game played Friday evening at Emmitsburg.

The loss was the first conference setback for the Mountaineers after five league wins. American university now has a 4-1 loop mark.

The game was a thriller and the lead changed hands six times in the final three minutes. Coach Caruso's outfit was forced to fight an uphill battle most of the way and late in the game gained a 55-54 lead. American clinched the game on Ishman's goal in the final minute.

Mt. St. Mary's will be idle until February 6 when the Quantico Marines play at Emmitsburg.

Observation Post
It seems significant that none of the visiting coaches who bring their basketball teams to Madison Square Garden join in condemning the "commercialism" of such games as being primarily responsible for the latest court scandal. . . . Maybe that's because they want to come back, but we know of some who didn't meet expenses on this season's eastern trip. . . . Possibly it would have been better if the game never had been taken out of college gyms, but it won't stop gambling to put it back as long as the bettors can get a "line" on games and the final scores.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Roosevelt Becomes Nation's First Third-Term President (By the Associated Press) Washington, Jan. 20:—Franklin D. Roosevelt, solemnly taking his third presidential oath beneath the capitol's sun-drenched dome, proclaimed to defense-minded Americans today that "our strong purpose is to protect and perpetuate the integrity of democracy."

Before a shivering crowd estimated at more than 75,000, The President stood bareheaded beside Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, placed his hand on a worn old Dutch family Bible and promised to "preserve, protect, and defend the constitution."

Just before Mr. Roosevelt took his oath, he sat attentively while John N. Garner swore in Henry A. Wallace, of Iowa, as his successor to the vice presidency.

Before going to the capitol, Mr. Roosevelt and his family bowed their heads in prayer at St. John's Episcopal church.

Eckenrode-Zeigler: Miss Mildred I. Zeigler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Zeigler, New Oxford, and Robert J. Eckenrode, son of Mrs. Rose Eckenrode, Littlestown, were united in marriage on Saturday evening at 9 o'clock in the rectory of St. John's Catholic church, Westminster. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph C. McCourt.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Orndorff, Emmitsburg, Md.

450 Greet Rev. and Mrs. Gresh: About 450 persons attended the reception held Monday evening at St. James Lutheran church in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh.

Miss Margaret C. Howard presented Dr. Hoover an occasional service book in appreciation of his services during his supply work. Miss Howard brought greetings to Mrs. Gresh and presented her with a basket of flowers.

The Rev. and Mrs. Gresh, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Miller, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bream and Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Bucher formed the receiving line.

At the social hour in the dining room Mrs. Earl J. Bowman, Mrs. Hannah Hoshour, Mrs. Arthur Phiel and Mrs. Norman W. Storrick, presided. They were assisted by Mrs. Doy Derr, Miss Margaret C. Howard, Miss Virginia Myers and Mrs. Harry Stout.

Erb-Spangler: Miss Mary M. Spangler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther H. Spangler, and David O. Erb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Erb, were united in marriage on Tuesday evening at 8:45 o'clock in the parsonage of St. Mary's Lutheran church, Silver Run, Maryland. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. E. Saltzgruber, who had performed the ceremony when the bridegroom's parents were married.

15-Bu. Apple Exhibit Placed in Farm Show: The 15-bushel apple display of the Adams County Fruit Growers association has received first prize for its exhibit of apples.

Those who helped with the work included B. E. Benner, H. S. Stoner, Glenn Slaybaugh, Oliver Heacock, Harvey Raffensperger, Edward Taughinbaugh, John W. Lucabaugh, Robert C. Lott, William M. Lott, Ryland Garretson, Donald Garretson, P. E. Griest and County Agent M. T. Hartman.

130 Directors of Schools at 50th Conclave: One hundred and thirty Adams county school directors attended the opening session of the fiftieth annual convention of the Adams County School Directors association Friday morning in the Gettysburg high school auditorium with President John W. Lucabaugh presiding.

The first guest speaker was Thurman "Dusty" Miller, of Wilmington, Ohio. Members of the Mask and Wig dramatic club presented a one-act play "Party Line." The cast included Mary Louise Spangler, Winifred Miller, Richard Ray and Oliver Reichelderfer.

SOMETHING BEHIND IT

Every time I go into a flower shop, or a garden, I am thrilled by the wonder of it all. Here is where you see art in its perfected form. Why such perfect coloring, why such perfect symmetry? And when I look upon a beautiful diamond, ruby, or sapphire, or look upon the many metals that are mined from the earth, I wonder what is behind it all.

And as I look into the starry heavens, or listen to the song of some bird, or watch a dog's honest face look questioning at me as I speak to him, I still wonder what is behind it all. In fact, in all nature there are so many wonders, so much organized beauty, that I can only come to one conclusion—that there is a God behind it all.

We are all a part owner in the beauty of this earth, but only as we look upon it and appreciate it. When someone gives us a gift, it is not the intrinsic value that pleases us, but the thought and love behind it, that came from the heart of the giver. People who give of themselves are always the greatest givers.

Behind everything of beauty, whether it be a great cathedral, some work of art, or a poem, there is the inspired work of its creator. When war came to France they removed the priceless glass in the windows of the Chartres cathedral—an art that no one today knows how to reproduce! It was love that first made it and love that preserved it.

There is something behind every act of our lives. Our better self is forever whispering to us to do even better, to take note of the misfortune of others, and to lend them a hand. To give out encouragement and cheer. And when we do this we learn what genuine happiness is.

Behind every thing we do there should be a purpose—an ever increasing one—to excel in those things for which we seem best suited and into which we can put the best of ourselves. Otherwise we are apt to exist and to be but lookers on, giving no hand in the betterment of the world about us. Behind all our happiness is the happiness that we put into other lives.

VICTORY

Home is where success is found.
There, if love be at the door,
Man, no matter how renowned,
Gains a triumph meaning more.

There, if faith in him is sure,
Welcome and farewell are true.
For all hurt he has the cure,
Let their worst his rivals do.

If the walls of home are stout,
Then, no matter, loss or gain,
Love will keep disaster out,
That man has not worked in vain.

4 Soroptimist Clubs to Install Officers:

One hundred Soroptimist from Philadelphia, Baltimore, Westminster, York, Hanover and Gettysburg will gather here next Tuesday evening in the Hotel Gettysburg for a joint meeting and installation of new officers of the Harrisburg, York, Hanover and Gettysburg clubs.

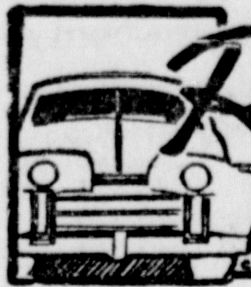

Miss Mary Ramer, retiring president of the Gettysburg club, will be the toastmaster.

The committee on arrangements is comprised of Mrs. Bess Hennig, Miss Julia Peters, Mrs. Henrietta Blücher, Miss Anna Mumper, Mrs. Ellen Buehler, Mrs. Eleanor Greist and Miss Ramer.

Entertain: The members of the Consistory and their wives, of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church, were entertained by the Rev. and Mrs. H. S. Fox in the church parsonage at a supper Monday evening. Twenty-six persons were present. A group of members of Trinity Circle, under the direction of Mrs. S. Lester Scott, served the supper.

Philadelphia, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics have the names of eight players on 1951 contracts.

The eighth came into the fold yesterday when Elmer Valo, 29-year-old outfielder from Palmerton, Pa., sent in his contract. Valo, who hit .280 last season, will be starting his 10th season with the A's.

Riding with Russell

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S.A.E.

Maybe this year the smart motorist will just re-read some chapters in the book of experience instead of turning over a new leaf

Watch Your Testing

Sometimes a useful motor test turns out to be highly misleading. It all depends on how skillful one is in avoiding pitfalls. I'll give you an stance.

Borrowing a compression gauge from a friend our hero took out the spark plugs, inserted the gauge in the cylinder nearest the radiator and operated the starter-motor. The gauge showed a low reading. Wisely he checked the other cylinders just to make sure his procedure was correct, and the gauge accurate. These checked at 90 pounds, but that number one cylinder continued to show only 55. So far so good.

At this point he remembered that if oil is squirted into the cylinder it will temporarily seal the rings and thus prove whether or not the rings are at fault. But in following this rule he was a bit careless with the oil, getting a lot of it over the valves. The result was that he temporarily sealed a poor seating valve. His conclusion that the cylinder needed a ring job thus proved to be dead wrong.

These Puzzling Cars

Just because the motor thermostat opens properly when the motor gets up to operating temperature doesn't necessarily mean that it is working one hundred per cent. It may be slow closing.

Don't be lulled into thinking that if the breaker points are not up to par the penalty is merely a little less efficiency in the ignition. Actually poor contacting of the points reduces primary current to the coil which, in turn, lowers the high tension output.

In Black And White

If the high cost of motoring has been getting you down now is the time to turn over a new leaf and begin keeping accurate records of your expense. It will tell you what your experience really is with various kinds of tires, different makes of cars and the many services you buy. Best aid to sensible cost accounting for the modern motorist is "The Wise Auto Owner's Record Book" which has recently been conceived and put on the market by G. L. Skolfield of Greenfield, Mass. His book not only tells you how to keep records in a business-like way, but covers a lot of subjects which tip you off to ways and means of saving expensive oversights in the care of your car. Looking over some of the items under periodic repairs really jolts you into action. The book not only serves as a reminder when to head for the service station but also prevents having operations done more often than necessary. Figures don't lie.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Because crankcase ventilation has always been sold as a frill in motor design majority of car owners see no connection between ventilation and oil mileage. They do not realize that if the crankcase vents are clogged pressure will build up and oil will be forced up past the pistons. It often is forced out the lower vent and up around the distributor shaft.

"There's a second way that such neglect of the ventilating system wastes oil. This is due to the increase in oil dilution. Effect of this is to thin down the oil. In that state it burns off rapidly, especially on the open road."

Pressures And Mileage

Other things being equal you get better gas mileage with more tire pressure, over the entire speed range. However, if the road surface is rough higher pressures will cause more bouncing of wheels, less traction and thus some waste. At very high speeds too much pressure results in increased tire slippage. If the tires are underinflated to 15 pounds and the car is operated at 40 miles an hour and does 16 miles to the gallon it will give 18 miles per gallon with a tire pressure boost to 35 pounds.

We definitely sacrifice a little gas mileage for greater comfort. Not to be overlooked is the saving in wear and tear on the car, from lessened jouncing.

Simple When You Know

One of the good scouts who does me the honor of reading these dissertations on the intimacies of the automobile reports that he found out for himself why there was so much vibration in his car. His findings may be of help to someone else. Anyhow, in checking over the car carefully he noticed that the propeller shaft is split into two sections and that a center connection was cradled in rubber. Suspecting that the rubber had outlived its usefulness he inserted some new, live rubber padding between the support and the frame. That did it.

Goodbye Headlight Glare

Those of you who know that I have on several occasions passed along the discovery that amber is of no value as a lens for fog lights may be surprised to find me saying a good word for the new night driving glasses which have yellow lenses ground and polished to the best optical finish. Apparently there is a wide difference between penetrating fog with light rays and seeing the road ahead with special glasses at night. Come to recall it, other night glasses I have used simply cut down vision when checking glare. These new glasses increase clarity. They give depth perception. I just happen to be one of those persons who are not troubled by glare, but I'm thinking of the advantage of the resting and relaxing of my eyes at night. Incidentally, the hue of the lenses does not change the shade of traffic signal lights.

Too Much Voltage

Take a voltage reading with the engine running, if you are troubled with excessive burning of breaker points. The situation may be due to too high voltage. Sometimes we can trace this to the generator itself, but in most instances loose connections are the bad actors. They allow current to build up and then let go in a way to play havoc with the best of breaker points.

Talk about standardization all you like, the American car still offers numerous exceptions to any rule. I am thinking about that very simple way of checking for leakage of oil past the motor's rear main bearing. Usually this oil finds its way out the vent at the bottom of the clutch housing. But this rule is of no value on one make which for years has used a clutch running in oil. It is not a fluid drive clutch, either. Then there is the precaution against leaving the hand brake set for long periods of time in cold weather on the assumption that this may cause air to get into the brake lines. There's no use of considering this with four makes of American cars which have the hand brake located at the forward end of the drive shaft.

Airing Their Troubles

Q. In spite of an ignition tune-up, rebuilding the carburetor and using very light oil I still go through a lot of delay when trying to start the engine of my car. Mileage is 67,000. H. L. G.

A. The chances are that this engine is suffering from very low compression. After a ring job, or whatever overhauling is needed to bring compression up to normal again, the motor will start easily.

Q. How much current is used by an electric gasoline gauge? B. R. McN.

A. This is about 0.3 amperes at six volts.

Q. Recently the crankcase of my car was overflowing with oil. Nearly seven quarts were put in whereas the system calls for six. I discovered this after driving about 50 miles. Do you think any damage was done? J. S. L.

A. The risk in overflowing lies in possibility of the oil foaming and temporarily starving some part of the engine to which oil is fed by lines. I doubt if any damage occurred here, especially if the motor has an oil filter which increases the capacity.

Q. Is it necessary to consider temperature when taking a battery's hydrometer reading? Wm. L. K.

A. For each 30 degrees below 77 degrees Fahrenheit subtract 10 points from the reading.

Q. There is leakage of coolant at one of the rear cylinder head nuts to which the ground strap is attached. Tightening doesn't seem to check it. What now? H. D. S.

A. You had better take off the strap and put a washer on each side of it. Because it tends to turn with the nut you really are not able to pull the nut down as tightly as it should be drawn. It may be necessary to use a little plastic metal here to seal the leakage.

Q. Can brakes be completely bled by opening only one of the bleeder screws and pumping on the brake pedal? H. H. R.

A. For a complete bleeding it is necessary to open all the lines in turn, and pump on the brake pedal until all the fluid in the master cylinder's reservoir and the lines is expelled.

Q. Tests show that one of the cells of the battery in my car has given up the ghost. The other two appear to be still useable. This is the second time batteries in my car have acted this way, although I seem to get several years' use of them. What is wrong? N. L.

A. Nothing. Batteries wear this way. Just like one shoe of a pair will wear more than the other so one cell of a battery invariably goes bad before the others.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern street, West Hartford 7, Connecticut, and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

Harrisburg, Jan. 20 (AP)—The General State Authority today called for bids February 21 for construction of three cottage buildings at the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphan school at Scotland, Franklin county. Bids opened earlier this week totaled $1-634,819 and were rejected as too high. The new proposals will provide for separate bids on each of the three buildings instead of as a single project.

POLIO—A GROWING SHADOW

CASES REPORTED SINCE 1936
SHOWN IN 3-YEAR PERIODS

*Including 1950 estimate of 30,000 cases.

During the three-year period 1948-1950 patient care alone cost more than $58,000,000 in March of Dimes funds.

The chart above reveals polio's ever-increasing threat to the American people and the enormous costs of patient care borne by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This year, the forward march of polio presents an especially urgent problem to the March of Dimes: the purchasing value of the dollar has shrunk to 58 cents in comparison with pre-war days, while polio cases have nearly quadrupled.

Insures a Continuation of Prompt and Adequate Aid Whenever and Wherever Polio Strikes

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW

The majority of polio victims are children under ten, and only one-fifth of all reported cases are 15 years of age or older.

Polio epidemics seem to follow a four-to-six-year cycle but there is still no way to predict them accurately. Community preparedness is the best insurance.

Infantile paralysis is one of the most expensive diseases known to medical science. A respirator case may require 24-hour nursing care and cost as much as $10,000 a year.

About one-half of those stricken by infantile paralysis recover without crippling; 25 to 30 per cent suffer minor disabilities; 20 to 25 per cent show marked residual paralysis; while five to 10 per cent die.

Dimes and dollars contributed to the annual March of Dimes are divided equally between the National Foundation and its chapters. Chapters retain half the money raised to provide care and treatment for infantile paralysis patients. The other half goes to national headquarters to finance a nation-wide program of research, education and emergency epidemic aid.

Your local community stands ready to serve if polio strikes in this community.

Adequate medical care in the case of infantile paralysis is estimated as beyond the financial resources of nine out of every ten American families. Through the March of Dimes, however, the American people guarantee that no one suffering from this disease need go without the best available care for lack of funds.

To carry on its war against the disease, the National Foundation authorizes an appropriation for research and education. This program includes the training of professional personnel whose skills are required in the fight against infantile paralysis.

The National Foundation is supported solely by the annual March of Dimes held each January.

ITY OFFICIALS
STAND ACCUSED IN VICE PROBE

Pittsburgh, Jan. 20 (AP)—Sixteen Kees Rocks residents, including a burglar, police chief and fire chief, face possible indictment in connection with alleged illegal use of public monies.

The state's special grand jury probing vice and official corruption in Allegheny county has recommended indictment of all 16. The jurors charged illegal diversion of money from a firemen's nest fund and police boxing benefit fund at McKees Rocks.

The jury's presentment Thursday said money provided by the state for the McKees Rocks firemen's protective association was used for protective insurance from the National Fire Fighters' association, at a cost of only $40 a month for the entire force.

In Party Officers

Balances in the fund were divided among the members of the fire department from time to time, the jurors said, and some "hundreds of dollars" went to the McKees Rocks Democratic party organization.

The presentment said the state $21,554 into the fund from 1941 to the present and that last October 6 only $2,252 remained.

Balances from boxing shows, supposed to buy uniforms for policemen, were turned over to the Democratic party, the jury averred.

Burgess David Heashman and Alice Chief Nicholas Ansell were charged with misdeemeanor in office and conspiracy to eat, defraud and commit fraudulent conversion.

Mrs. Alice Rennekamp, secretary of the Democratic party in the borough, was charged with violating election laws and conspiracy to eat, defraud and commit fraudulent conversion.

Fire Chief Thomas Cairns and 10 firemen faced charges of fraudulent conversion and most of the firemen also were named in her related charges.

Two witnesses, Henry Rice and Lawrence Pearson, were accused of perjury.

The jury said that in McKees Rocks "houses of prostitution flourished openly and notoriously." It classified the borough's habit of running instead of jailing bawdyhouse keepers as "the granting of a license for the operation of houses of prostitution."

PROPOSES QUICK
ACTION ON TAXES

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Quick action to raise taxes by another $80,000,000 to $900,000,000 was proposed Friday by Senator Robertson (D-Va.), who said it would combat inflation and supply defense dollars.

The need is too urgent, the Virginian said in a statement, to delay another tax boost until Congress can vote to find all the $16,500,000,000 or more President Truman wants in new revenue to balance next year's budget.

Robertson suggested the treasury could prepare in a few days and Congress could pass in a few weeks bill to:

1. Raise the tax rate on corporate income — perhaps to 55 per cent. In the two tax bills enacted since the Korean war commenced, the top corporate rate has been increased from 38 per cent to 47 per cent. A boost to 55 per cent would add several billion dollars in revenue.
2. Lower the exemptions of individuals. Robertson did not say to what level they might be reduced. The present personal exemption is $600. If it were trimmed to $500, this would bring in about $2,000,000,000 in new revenue, some of it from about 5,000,000 lower income persons who pay no income taxes now.
3. Increase the excise taxes on some luxury goods and extend excise taxes "to certain products that might be called a border line between a luxury and a necessity." Excises now are levied on such things as whiskey, tobacco, jewelry, cosmetics, movie tickets, transportation, communications, radio and television sets.

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Senate appeared headed today toward a vote late this month approving the use of American ground forces to bolster western Europe's defenses.

An indication by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) that he will support the transfer of a limited number of divisions — when they become available —

NEGLECT COST
15 MILLIONS

Baltimore, Jan. 20 (AP)—A sprinkling system which might have saved a five million dollar pier from destruction by fire was permitted to deteriorate about three years ago, Fire Chief Michael H. Lotz said last night. Total estimated damage of Tuesday night's ship and pier fire here has been put at about $15,000,000.

The water lines were installed when the pier was used for ammunition loading during World War II.

The system has been inoperative since 1947 when the army left the pier. Fire department officials say the sprinkling system was permitted to rot away and many of the valves and pipes were stolen.

If the water system had been working, it is probable both the pier and the liner George Washington would have been saved, they said.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Wantz and son, John Stephen, are now living in their new home on York R. 5, which they recently built. Mr. and Mrs. Wantz formerly lived in York city. Mrs. Wantz was formerly Miss Jennie Mae Jacobs, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin D. Jacobs Sr., R. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Zeigler, York, are preparing to leave shortly to spend about a month in Florida. Mr. Zeigler formerly resided here.

Albrecht Burbach, a senior in the local high school, who resides at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anthony, R. 1, who are sponsoring him since his arrival here from Germany, was among German students who met at a reunion at New Windsor, Md., recently, together with the families in whose homes they live. The Anthony couple went to New Windsor with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin E. Bosserman and Harry J. Roland and twin children, Robert and Gloria Ann, arranged a party last week for their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Grace Roland, Hanover, who became 66 years old. The party was conducted at Mrs. Roland's home. She is a former local resident. Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Bosserman were formerly the Misses Reba and Irene Roland.

Mrs. Reuben Patterson, R. 1, is a patient at the Hanover hospital. During her absence, two of her seven children are at the home of an aunt, Mrs. Raymond Stambaugh, and the other five are cared for by their father at home.

The Rev. Max Wilhelm, missionary to China for an extended period, has accepted an invitation to preach Sunday, January 28, at Holtzschwamm Lutheran church at the morning service at 10 o'clock. The church has no regular pastor since the resignation of the Rev. Elwood G. Johnson more than a year ago.

Mrs. Annie B. Mummert, who recently submitted to an operation at the West Side Osteopathic hospital, West York, is recuperating at the home of a son, Cletus E. Mummert. Her condition is reported improving.

The Women's Missionary Society of Holtzschwamm church met at the church Wednesday evening.

Elmer G. Mummert represented Mummert's garage Wednesday at a showing to dealers of the newest model Chrysler at Atlantic City, N. J.

Mrs. Annie Ruth donated flowers for the memorial vases at Holtzschwamm Lutheran church on Sunday in memory of her husband, George N. Ruth, who died five years ago. A basket of flowers was also placed in the church in memory of Pierce Stambaugh, who died two years ago, by his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Myers, north of town, have sold their farm to a York man and expect to abandon farming there with a large sale of stock and equipment the latter part of February. Neither Mr. and Mrs. Myers have been in good health through the past year.

Glenn Jacobs, Reading township near town, has been under treatment at the York hospital.

Cashman's Hardware store, which operated for the past five years at the old Redmen's Hall building, has moved two blocks west to the former Spangler store rooms, purchased by the proprietor, Glenn C. Cashman, several months ago.

William Krout, R. 3, is preparing to conduct a large sale at his place east of town within the next few weeks and contemplates abandoning farming.

Elvin C. Lau, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Lau, and a graduate of the last class of the local high school, who left two weeks ago to spend the remainder of the winter at Miami, Fla., has accepted a position with the Walter Johnson company.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester M. Dagnell, Ellensburg R. D., were visitors to town early this week.

Mrs. Glen W. Boyer is a patient at the West Side Osteopathic hospital, West York.

took much of the starch out of opposition to a move President Truman has said he will make it necessary without Congress' approval.

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Admiral Forrest P. Sherman testified Friday that "unless international conditions improve" it probably will be necessary to increase the nation's fighting forces above the present goals of close to 3,500,000 persons.

Sherman, top ranking navy officer and a member of the joint chiefs of staff, gave this "personal opinion" to the Senate preparedness subcommittee.

DEFENDS NEW CENSORSHIP

New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, replying to critics of his new compulsory war news censorship rules in Korea, says he ordered the curbs at the demand of the press itself.

"It is a matter of public knowledge how desperately I tried to defend press freedom but, strangely, I found myself opposed on the issue by the press itself and finally yielded to its almost united demand that military censorship be imposed," the general declared.

MacArthur's statement was contained in a cable Thursday to Editor & Publisher, newspaper trade magazine which had criticized the new regulations of war coverage.

In an editorial last week the magazine declared: "The censorship clamped over correspondents in Korea is not only unnecessarily stringent but is ridiculous in some extremes and implies a distrust of the correspondents which is unjustified."

Before the new regulations were clamped down last week, correspondents covering the Korean fighting were subject to voluntary censorship to prevent premature publication of information valuable to the enemy. This system worked well, the general's statement said.

"The demand for censorship became so heavy, however, that I put the matter before a conference of leading publishers and editors held in Washington on December 18 last who made it unequivocally clear that military censorship should be imposed."

The December 18 meeting was attended by Defense Secretary George C. Marshall and a dozen top executives in the newspaper and radio field.

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—Luther Ratliff, 65, hasn't eaten for 36 days, he says, and expects to finish a 40 day fast Jan. 23, "in a breeze." Ratliff, an unmarried salesman, began his fast Dec. 14 to "cleanse" his body so that he may live a long life.

Th only thing he's taken in his mouth has been water.

Weakened and emaciated, he spent most of the day Thursday in bed for the first time since he started abstaining from food. He said he had continued working until Wednesday.

He told interviewers he had heard of Tibetans who had achieved unbelievably long lives by periodic fasting. He added he believes his fast will result in living longer.

There also are religious reasons for the fast. He explained: "You know Paul said: 'Give yourselves to fasting and prayer.'"

Asked if he had called a doctor to check his condition lately, Ratliff said: "No, doctors say you can't live but 14 days without food."

Members of his family express concern about his being able to hold out. Mrs. E. W. Majors, a sister with whom he is staying in this small North Georgia community, said "I'm afraid he won't be able to make it."

His father, approaching 90, sat quietly in the room during the interview. The father said, "Sure he'll make it."

New Oxford

New Oxford — Mrs. Emily G. Hutson, who returned to her home at Cooperstown, N. Y., in the fall after spending several months with her daughter, Mrs. Chester E. Loper, near Pine Run, and shortly afterward was taken seriously ill, is now reported improved. Mr. Loper, who, this year, resigned his position at the Sheppard-Diesel company, Hanover, to devote full time to dairy farming at his place, was summoned recently to return to his work at the plant. During his enforced absence, a neighbor, Harry Baker, has been assisting with the dairy work.

A group of young men of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church was received into the parish Holy Name society Sunday evening at services conducted in conjunction with the regular Sunday evening devotions in charge of the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor. During 1950, 170 men of the parish belonged to the Holy Name society which admits all men past the age of 17 years.

The Always Faithful class of the First Lutheran church school met during the week at the church building with Mrs. Beulah Miller and Mrs. John F. Duttrera acting as hostesses. Mrs. Roy Roland, recently elected 1951 president, presided at the business session.

Miss Nettie Mummert, who had been seriously ill at the home of a brother, George W. Mummert, near Pine Run, was removed to the Hanover hospital during the week.

Members of the Holy Name society of the local Catholic parish acted as hosts Monday evening to the class of men added to membership Sunday evening.

Women of the Auxiliary of the local fire company met at the fire hall Thursday evening when final plans were made for the rummage sale which the auxiliary plans for Saturday, January 27.

The group of women who are preparing to conduct a public card party for the benefit of the local Catholic church Wednesday evening, January 24, at the parochial hall, met at the hall during the week to complete plans and to give a report on the results of their preparations.

Richard A. Shrader, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shrader, near here, who was married January 6 to Miss Doris McManus, Hanover,

Ask Combat Bonus
Pay For Soldiers

Washington, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Defense Department asked Congress Friday to grant combat bonus pay of $50 to $100 monthly to troops fighting in Korea.

Legislation submitted by the department provides the additional $50 monthly for enlisted men and the $100 extra for officers if they have fought the enemy at least six days in any month.

It would be retroactive to June 27, the date American forces started fighting in Korea, and would apply both to troops engaged in direct battle with the enemy and to other men who serve in immediate support of combat forces.

The plan to give officers a bigger bonus than enlisted men faces a fight even though the department said officers should receive more because they have greater responsibilities and suffer greater proportionate casualties.

HASN'T EATEN

SUBPOENA 200
YORK PASTORS

York, Pa., Jan. 20 (AP)—York county District Attorney Clarence M. Lawyer, Jr., has subpoenaed nearly 200 members of the York Ministerial Association to appear before a grand jury session Monday.

Lawyer said the subpoenas were issued so "the association can present its evidence to back up its charges of gambling and corruption in York county."

The move is the latest in a series of events which began in October when the association's social action committee charged that city and county law enforcement officers had accepted bribes from "gambling interests" and suppressed gambling investigations.

Judge Walter I. Anderson ordered the December session of the grand jury to reconvene on January 21 with the purpose of "investigating charges of gambling and official corruption in York county."

The Ministerial association however, contended through Council T. Frederick Feldmann that the jury had disqualified itself and asked Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti to name a special deputy attorney general to lead a state probe of their charges.

Littlestown

Littlestown—Mrs. Orville Newman of Littlestown R. 2, was hostess to the Frogtown Homemakers at the semi-monthly meeting held Wednesday evening. Miss Mary Jane Mickey, Adams county home economics instruction representative, was present to discuss color combinations.

Miss Mickey showed slides on the proper lighting in homes, to the group of 11 present. Refreshments were served to the group by the hostess. The next meeting of the homemakers will be held Wednesday, February 7, at the home of Mrs. Fred Newman, Littlestown R. 2. Furniture arrangement will be discussed at this meeting, at which Miss Mickey will be present.

Miss Louise Staub, a senior at Mansfield State Teachers' college, is spending the semester vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Staub, West King street.

Robert L. Scholl, a senior at Millersville State Teachers' college, is spending his semester vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Scholl, South Queen street.

Report cards were distributed to the pupils of the Littlestown public school on Friday by their respective teachers.

Miss Jean Wolfe, daughter of Mrs. Esther R. Wolfe, White Hall, a student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers' college, is spending the semester vacation at the home of her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Lottie K. Rudisill.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 20 (AP)—Two eastern Pennsylvania lawyers Friday told the midwinter meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar association they hope the Legislature will adopt the "Pennsylvania judiciary plan" to take judges out of politics.

If the plan is approved by the Legislature, the job of removing judges from politics would be turned over to laymen, said Edward J. Fox of Easton and J. Wesley McWilliams, Philadelphia, Fox is chairman and McWilliams vice chairman of the association's committee to promote the judiciary plan.

CHINA'S KOREAN
REPLY FORCING
"SHOWDOWN"

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Now that Red China and the United Nations have rebuffed and rebuked each other in the matter of a Korean cease-fire, we are facing a showdown.

And why must there be a showdown? Because Washington and other Western powers have reached the conclusion that Communist China doesn't want peace.

Moreover, there is a widespread feeling that any display of hesitation by the democracies might invite further aggression.

The showdown will of course be initiated through the peace organization. It is an ugly and dangerous situation, but because of that very fact it must be dealt with promptly.

Preliminary To Sanctions

The United States is pressing for U.N. condemnation of Red China as an aggressor. Such action would, in the natural course of events, be preliminary to the application of punitive sanctions against the guilty government. This presumably would involve economic sanctions and perhaps a blockade of Chinese territory at the outset. If that didn't work, something more drastic would have to be considered.

Undoubtedly the proposal of punitive measures will meet opposition in the U.N. Obviously the entire Soviet bloc will vote against sanctions, and one would expect India also to register disapproval, in view of Prime Minister Nehru's strong stand against naming China an aggressor.

Nehru takes the position that such condemnation would absolutely preclude a peaceful settlement of the controversy. More than that, he holds that the Chinese reply to the U.N. cease-fire proposal isn't a flat rejection.

Riding The Tiger

Nehru's attitude reminds one rather forcibly of the old Chinese proverb that he who rides a tiger finds it difficult to dismount. As citizen of the land which produces the fearsome Bengal tigers he knows well that while they may be made to obey by force it's difficult to tame them.

Now of course Nehru's stand can't be dismissed thus summarily. His great nation lies within the vast Asiatic theatre which communism aims to absorb. It is because this is the Communist program that Red China doesn't figure it profitable to make a cease-fire agreement in Korea. Peiping prefers to let nature take its course.

Naturally Nehru doesn't want war with China, and it needs no second sight to see that Peiping's ambitions lead in the direction of India's neighboring frontiers. The Chinese moves towards Tibet and Nepal on India's borders are fair warning of possible storms to come.

Another Factor

Then there presumably is another impelling factor in Nehru's attitude. As head of one of the world's largest states—a country ranking eighth among the industrial nation of the world—he is credited with having ambitions to achieve the leadership of all Asia.

Such an ambition clashes directly with what General Mao Tze-tung, the Chinese Communist leader, also is generally believed to have in mind for himself. And indications are that such a set-up may have Russia's warm blessings—with the understanding that Moscow remains the big boss.

So all things considered, it's easy to understand why Nehru doesn't want trouble with China.

However, the Western powers show no signs of letting such considerations stand in the way of action against Peiping.

The report of R. B. Stauffer, tester for Circuit 2, follows:

There were 14 herds tested, with 17 days worked; 246 cows in milk, 64 cows dry, seven cows sold for non-dairy purposes, 23 cows bought, 31 records reported on 718 calves, 41 cows produced over 40 pounds of fat, 28 cows produced over 50 pounds of fat, 31 cows produced over 1,000 pounds of milk, 44 cows produced over 1,200 pounds of milk.

To List Violators
Among GI Schools

Harrisburg, Jan. 20 (AP)—The state probe into operations of GI training schools throughout the state is scheduled to produce its first list of violators today.

Louis E. F. Raycroft, chairman of the state board of private trade schools, said yesterday he would announce the names of nine license violators. He said these schools' owners will be ordered to appear at hearings here to determine whether their license should be suspended.

Raycroft said some of the schools are located in Lackawanna county where a Federal Grand Jury has been probing GI training school operation and ownership.

A second development amid the probe last night was the public announcement that James L. McDewitt, president of the State Federation of Labor, resigned from the state board of private trade schools "about six months ago" in "opposition to operations of GI schools as a whole."

Kermit, W. Va., Jan. 20 (AP)—A "gaseous condition" spotted by federal mine inspectors only a few days ago was blamed today for the explosion that killed 11 men and injured two more in the burning Springs mine here.

State Mines Chief Arch Alexander, who attributed Thursday's blast deep in the 32-year-old pit to the "gaseous condition," said state mine inspectors had reported the mine in good condition earlier this month.

U.S. IS PRESSING FOR STRONG U.N. STAND ON REDS

By STANLEY JOHNSON
Lake Success, Jan. 20 (AP)—The United States, appalled by the fear and indecision to which Chinese Communist intervention in Korea has reduced the United Nations, pressed urgently today for a strong stand against the Peiping regime.

American diplomats held a series of conferences with non-Communist countries, lining up support for a resolution condemning Red China as an aggressor. For the third day in a row an American spokesman said the resolution would be introduced in the 60-nation political committee this afternoon.

Three Hurdles
The resolution, which would open the way for later direct action against Peiping, faces three chief hurdles:

1. Stone-wall Soviet-bloc opposition.
2. A move by 12 Asian-Arab countries to try another peace appeal to Peiping.
3. A deeply ingrained fear among European countries that the U. S. will become so deeply embroiled in Asia that they will be left open to aggression at home.

The American view is that the Chinese Communists are obviously aggressors and should be denounced as such. Washington maintains that the entire idea of collective security is at stake and that a retreat from that principle in Asia would weaken it disastrously in Europe.

Enough Delay
The U. S. feels that delay in the face of Peiping's military action in Korea, for whose defense the U. N. has pledged itself, has gone on long enough and the time to speak is now. A high American source, however, said that the preliminary arguing has been a useful thing, since many different points of view have been uncovered, and it is better to thresh such things out before, rather than after, a decision has been taken.

The Arab-Asian bloc—Afghanistan, Burma, Egypt, India, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Lebanon, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Yemen—plan to meet today. They will continue discussion which may lead to a reactivation of their earlier resolution calling for a seven-power conference on Far Eastern affairs.

Indict 17 In Theft Of Woolen Goods

New York, Jan. 20 (AP)—Seventeen men face Federal charges in connection with the stealing of $130,000 worth of woolen goods shipped from Maine mills.

The men were indicted yesterday for the interstate crime in which a truck carrying the goods was stolen from a Manhattan parking lot and later found empty in Harrison, N. J. The Federal Bureau of Investigation recovered most of the shipment.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas F. Burchill, Jr., said the woolens were transported to a Jersey City, N. J., warehouse then moved to a warehouse in Allentown, Pa.

One of the defendants, Matteo De Lorenzo of Brooklyn, is still at large, Burchill said, but the 16 others were arrested last month.

Littlestown EARLY RETURNS ENCOURAGING IN POLIO CAMPAIGN

A total of $171.22 has been received to date from the sponsors in Littlestown for the Infantile Paralysis fund campaign since it began on Monday, according to a report received from Mrs. Charles W. Weikert, local fund chairman. The response to the drive this year is greater than last year. Mrs. James W. Fager, president of Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion Auxiliary, has reported that all of the drive donation books received by the auxiliary have been distributed.

The Littlestown Senior Boy Scout Troop, of which George H. Dittow is the leader, is soliciting the town today for the drive, thus aiding the auxiliary with the distribution.

The following are sponsors to date: Dr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Potter, Marvin's Cut Rate Store, Mason and Dixon Memorial Post, No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, B. P. Shriver and company, Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church choir; Hustler's Sunday school class of Redeemer's church, Cookson Brothers, Plumbing and Heating; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Stover, Walter F. Crouse, John Deere farm machinery, Dr. and Mrs. Richard M. Phreaner, Robert L. Crouse and Sons' garage, Village Chevrolet, Inc.; Keystone Milling company, Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church Sunday school, Mr. and Mrs. Roger J. Keefer, Littlestown Throwing company, Windsor Shoe company, Inc.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Burr, Keystone Cabinet company, Woman's Community club, Littlestown State bank and Littlestown Hardware and Foundry company, Inc.

Anyone contributing $5 or more to the drive will receive a sponsor's ticket to the annual March of Dimes dance, held at Hotel Gettysburg at which time the drawing for $500 worth of war bonds will take place.

Coming Events At School

Coming events at the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school include: Tuesday, Boys' Varsity and Junior Varsity basketball teams will oppose the New Oxford teams at home; Wednesday, H. Dean Stover will be in charge of the science assembly; Friday, the Boys' and Girls' Varsity teams will play the Newville basketball teams at home; Tuesday, January 30, the Boys' Varsity and Junior Varsity teams will play opposite the East Berlin basketball teams; Wednesday, January 31, a movie will be shown in the weekly assembly period; Thursday, February 1, the Junior high musicale will be given at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, under the direction of Mrs. William Wilt, of the high school faculty.

The weekly meeting of Littlestown Girl Scout Troop No. 15 was held Thursday evening in the engine house. Three of the troop members have completed their work for game badges, which will be toward the collection for the book which the troop is compiling. The book will include hikes, camping, outdoor sports and rainy day games to be played with younger brothers and sisters. The next study of the troop will be First Aid. This will be taught by Mrs. Brenda B. Walker, school nurse of the Littlestown grade school and the Littlestown junior-senior high school. The first lesson will be given at the meeting next Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the engine house.

The date of the annual amateur show sponsored by the Littlestown Lions club has not yet been announced. The arrangement committee for the show is composed of John H. Riley, Marvin F. Breighner and Paul L. Hollinger.

The Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity will not have a Valentine party for the children of the members. The February meeting of the club will be held Wednesday, the 21. The meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m., due to the community Lenten services, at the POS of A hall. The program committee is composed of Mrs. J. Ralph Reaver, chairman, Mrs. Charles Rabenstein, Mrs. Curvin Hollinger, Mrs. Melvin A. Miller, Mrs. Richard Maitland, Mrs. James Spalding, Mrs. George Mayers, Mrs. J. Robert Sell and Mrs. Rodney Law. Those comprising the hostess committee are Mrs. Joseph R. Riden, chairman, Mrs. Harry M. Badders, Mrs. Nevaeh A. Crouse, Mrs. John N. Sell, Mrs. Millard Basehor, Mrs. Edward H. Leister, Mrs. Cassie Strine, Mrs. Edna Geiselman, Mrs. James W. Fager and Mrs. Fred Blocher.

The Littlestown Homemakers will meet on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wade Brown, Littlestown R. 2. Miss Jane Mickey, Adams county home economics extension representative, will lead the group in the study of patterns. The Homemakers are each requested to bring a pattern, a tape measure, scissors and pins.

FIRST FATALITY

Easton, Pa., Jan. 20 (AP)—Easton's first traffic fatality of 1951 was reported last night when 50-year-old William Schoch of Bethlehem was struck and killed by a car as he crossed a downtown street.

Police said Schoch (whose mailing address was Box 44, Bethlehem) was an employee of the Lower Saucon township school district. He was hit by a car driven by Yarlley Kennedy, 38, of Washington, N. J.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—Gene Rosensteel, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rosensteel, South Seton avenue, enlisted in the U. S. Navy this week. He will report for training January 26.

Mrs. William Frailey and Mrs. George Green attended the lecture on "Atomic Energy and the Faith of a Scientist," by Dr. Donald H. Andrews of the Johns Hopkins university, at the Frederick high school last Monday evening.

The Over-the-Tea-Cup sewing circle met Monday evening at the Green Parrot tea shop. The birthdays of two members, Mrs. Harry S. Boyle and Mrs. Leonard Leary, were celebrated. After the birthday lunch the group went to the home of members Miss Ruth Gillelan and Miss Rhoda Gillelan for an evening of games.

The pastor and members of Elias Evangelical Lutheran church have received a formal invitation to attend the bicentennial celebration of the Trinity Lutheran church of Taneytown, Md., being held at the church at 8 p.m. next Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, January 22, 23 and 25. Many members of the congregation will have part in the presentation of a pageant entitled "The Seven Books of Trinity." The Elias Evangelical Lutheran congregation at Emmitsburg was at one time a part of the Taneytown parish. Rev. Glenn Stahl is the present pastor of the church.

The Children's choir of the Elias Lutheran church will meet Monday at 4 p.m. with Keith Janicke directing. Melvin D. Valentine, aged 13, died at his home at Rocky Ridge last Sunday night. He was the son of Mrs. Kathryn Ogle Valentine and the late Robert E. Valentine. He is survived by his mother, two sisters, Mrs. Guy Krom, Emmitsburg, and Mrs. James Six at home, and one brother, Rodney Valentine, at home. Funeral services were from the home Wednesday with the pastor, Rev. Reese Poffenberger, officiating.

The Women's Bible class together with the women of the church held a stocking social at the parish house Thursday night with an attendance of 30 women. Mrs. George Eyster is teacher of the class. She was assisted by Miss Grace Rowe, Mrs. Harry McDonnell and Mrs. Calvin Manahan, members of the program committee. A total of $64.57 was received through the little stockings. Home made ice cream and cake with coffee was served.

The ski lift in a snow sports area near Santa Fe, N. M., ends at an altitude of 11,000 feet where snows remain until May and sometimes later.
